

I'm writing to be sure that the Do Not Call list remains in tact. It has been such a relief to not have the phone ring several times day and night due to the volume of telemarketing calls. Time at home for me is time to spend with my family, not receive unwanted calls. I used to receive several calls from the same companies, dinner time, late at night, enough is enough. I feel it is invasion of my personal space to receive these calls. If I want to shop for services I will make outbound calls! Please continue to stop the insanity of the telemarketing calls. Thank you.
